What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

 The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 5 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage and you may get back less. You may not be able to cash in early or you may have to pay significant extra costs to cash in early. You may not be able to sell your product easily or you may have to sell at a price that significantly impacts on how much you get back.

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 3 out of 7, which is the medium-low risk class.

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium-low level, and poor market conditions are unlikely to impact our capacity to pay you.

There is no minimum guaranteed return. You could lose some or all of your investment.(see the section 'what happens if we are unable to pay you')

Be aware of currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you will get depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

Liquidity Risk - While the Sub-Fund shall generally invest in financial instruments which are sufficiently liquid, under certain circumstances these may also be exposed to low liquidity levels.

Duplication of Fees – Given that the Sub-Fund may invest in other collective investment schemes, there may be a risk of duplication of fees and commissions charged against the capital of the Sub-Fund.

Exchange Rate Risk – The Sub-Fund may invest in assets denominated in currencies other than Euro, thereby exposing the Sub-Fund to fluctuations in exchange rates.

Operational/Counterparty Risk – The Sub-Fund may be exposed to operational/counterparty risk following any delegation made by the Custodian.

Financial Derivative Instrument Risk – The Manager may make use of FDIs which can be highly volatile and expose investors to a high risk of loss.

Charges and Expenses - Charges and expenses will be charged against capital, which may have the effect of constraining capital growth.

The Sub-Fund may also be exposed to additional risks which are not adequately captured by the risk indicator and may cause additional loss.

This Risk and Reward section is not a guarantee that it will remain unchanged. More information regarding risks may be found in the "Risk Factors" section in the Company's Prospectus.
